Unlocking the Magic of Reading

At TSTSS, students take part in weekly reading lessons with our NET, Mr. Kavanagh. The goal of the lessons is to develop students' reading skills through a combination of activities, including reading interesting storybooks and phonics practice. Students read classic stories such as "Oliver Twist" by Charles Dickens, "Frankenstein" by Mary Shelley, and "The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe" by C.S. Lewis. The aim of the class is to have the students become active participants in reading through activities, questioning, and dramatic performances, which also work to improve speaking skills. Along with phonics practice, the reading classes develop students' skills in reading to create a rich English learning environment.

Exploring the World of English

Another exciting part of our English learning environment is our morning assembly videos that create a fun learning experience for students. Our teachers work closely with students to create scripts and videos. The topics range from tips on improving their English skills to interesting facts from around the world. This learning is further enhanced through worksheets that test students' understanding of the videos. Students are also encouraged to take part in the annual English Speech Festival competition and English public speaking activities. The competition requires students to memorize a piece of poetry and deliver it with intonation, clarity, and focus. Our teachers work diligently to train students, offering guidance and feedback throughout their preparation.

Thriving Together

Every student learns at their own pace and with their own ability. With this in mind, classes are streamed to ensure each student is given the support they need to thrive. This also allows our teachers to prepare and teach at an appropriate level to meet students' needs. Academic lessons are supported through various extracurricular activities, including our English speaking days. These events are another example of the hard work of our teachers and students. We develop different activities that complement the work in lessons and enhance students' learning experience. Our most recent English Speaking Day aimed to revise phonics sounds that were taught in reading lessons. Students got a great chance to practise the phonics sounds introduced by Mr. Kavanagh and were able to show their reading skills with ease. Over the course of the year, English speaking days will act as another rung on the ladder of students' learning journey.
